By: Arri Anthony

Once upon a time in a jungle there was a tiger and a jaguar. They were best friends their names were Tigger and Jagger. They had been best friends since they were four years old.

They tried to slept together in a dark cave, but was it was too noisy. They wanted to find a new jungle to live in that was not noisy.

They walked for two days and suddenly Tigger shouted “There’s a jungle!”

They found a new jungle and then they found a cave to sleep in. The new jungle had flowers and pretty grass. It was very peaceful so Jagger said "this is the perfect jungle!"

Then Tigger said, “We need to find food.”

“Ok let’s find some, let’s look behind this cave” said Jagger.

They saw a giant fruit tree. Jagger and Tigger climbed the tree and grabbed a lot of fruit to take back to their cave.

On the way back to the cave they ran into Big Bad Cheetah. They got scared and started to run away.

Luckily, The Big Bad Cheetah didn't see them went in his cave and eat lunch.

Tigger said “We need to stay away from that cheetah!”

Back at their cave Tigger and Jagger made a note to send to Big Bad Cheetah. They told him to be quiet and stay away from them. They snuck in into Big Bad Cheetah's cave.

They snuck in into Big Bad Cheetah's cave to leave the note.

Cheetah thought to himself that he needed to go away to a new jungle if he can't be loud. He went back to the noisy jungle.

“Now we can do whatever we want!” they all said.
